REMARKS

I'm sure Molly is right, although I seem to recall that Jerry and I felt that the bureau was more secure where it is currently located than in the proposed new Embassy. However, as part of a "compound" (à la Jordan) it might make some sense.

I wonder, however, where the money will

I'm not sure what memorandums for the record he is talking about, but it is not so much a matter of FBIS expressing lack of interest as of the Embassy rejecting our being included in the actual embassy building on the grounds that we were the largest embassy component by far and would require an inordinate amount of space in what is otherwise a very small embassy. [ ] had pursued this with Ambassador Sutherland and gotten a firm rejection at the times plans for the new embassy were being drawn up and Amb. Leidel carried on with Sutherland's policy.

LOGNOTE - Administrative Staff, 22 October 1985

[ ] On 16 October 1985, [ ] SSA/DDA Office, called regarding my inquiry about moving the FBIS/Gulf Bureau into the new Embassy Compound being planned for Manama. [ ] advised that FBO State Department rejected the idea on the basis that they are now too far along to add the FBIS Gulf Bureau. [ ] noted he was shown numerous Memorandums For The Record quoting various FBIS employees as having informed State Department that FBIS was not interested in moving into the new Embassy Compound.

[ ] advised that FBO does not believe that this land is available, however, [ ] stated he would push for the FBIS Gulf Bureau to be included inside the Embassy perimeter wall, if FBIS is successful in obtaining the adjacent property.
